

I AM MORE LIKE...

name _____

Directions: For each comparison below choose the word that most represents who you are and what you are like. Circle that word.

For example, the choice might be between Colorado and New York. These two places bring to mind two distinctive environments or personalities. The idea on this one is not necessarily to choose your favorite place, or which one you would rather visit, but which open you are most like. Maybe you are “most like” New York because you have a lot of things going on in your life or because you are busy and boisterous, or because you are an exciting person. Or maybe you are more like Colorado because you see yourself as in tune with nature, or you are quiet and solid like the Rocky Mountains, or refreshing as the mountain air. Got the idea?
